LADY'S PURCHASE WAS SMALL BUT BENEFITS GREAT

Few Bottles of Trutona Relieved

Mrs. Benner of Former Severe Billious Attacks

Louisville, Ky. July 27.—"For the six dollars I've paid out for Trutona, I feel that I've received $1000 worth of benefits," says Mrs. C. Benner, who lives in Louisville at 1123 Bardstown Road.

"I'll admit that I didn't have much faith in Trutona, at first, but it soon proved to be the medicine for my ailments. I used to suffer severe bilious attacks. No one knows the terrible feeling I'd experience during these spells. Some times they would attack me while I was down town, and I'd have a hard time getting home. My appetite was so poor that hardly any kind of food tempted me, and my liver had been out of shape for the past two years."

"After I had taken three of the six bottles of Trutona, which I purchased, I realized it was helping me, and now, with the fourth bottle finished, the bilious attacks have ceased to occur. I haven't had a spell for the past week, and my kidneys are in better shape, too. I can truthfully recommend Trutona, to those who are suffering as I did." Trutona's healthful action reaches every portion of the body, and performs its work faithfully and efficiently. Trutona rebuilds diseased nerves and tissues, creates healthy appetite, and assists in the assimilation and digestion of the food. It's the Perfect Tonic, because of its merit.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

(McLean County News) However bitter the dose we always take our medicine.

The Calhoun base ball team up to last Sunday had not lost a game this season, but on that fateful Sunday afternoon she went up against an extraordinary aggregation of ball players, from Hartford and now the Invincibles are not so much so as they once were. Calhoun however, went into the game crippled by the absence of two of her best men, Harry Sebold and Pud Vetrees, who were out of town.

The game which was largely attended was not so interesting as it would have been had the contest been closer. Nine innings were played the score standing 10 to 3 in favor of Hartford.

SPRAY USED NOW WILL HELP SAVE APPLES

Lexington, Ky.—The codling-moth which produces the worm found in apples in the fall and winter will be destroyed if the farmer will spray the orchard immediately before the second brood of the moth is formed. The College of Agriculture recommends this spray made of 1½ pounds of powdered arsenate of lead to fifty gallons of either bordeaux mixture or lime sulphur solution. Bordeaux is preferable and the spray should not be neglected if the apples are to be free from worms in the winter.

"Don't change your company," is the advice Earle Williams gives to young screen players, and then he adds, "providing you are with the right company." Earle Williams is one of the few film players who has never changed his habitation from one studio to another. He commenced his career 12 years ago with the Vitagraph star family and has never strayed from the fold. "The Wolf," visualized from Eugene Walters' famous stage play, and "The Fortune Hunter," from Winchell Smith's play, have been the means of emphasizing Mr. Williams' ability and popular attraction recently.

CLEAR CALL TO AMERICANS

Year 1920 Should Be Remembered by All as Anniversary of Establishment of Free Institutions.

Distinguished Americans, including William H. Taft, Charles Hughes and Cardinal Gibbons, have appealed to their fellow countrymen to remember and honor by local celebrations at any suitable time beginning June 4 the establishment of free institutions in America. A great year is 1920. Three hundred years ago beginning the 30th of last July, there was being held in Jamestown, colony of Virginia, the first American legislative assembly called by free men of lawful age and understanding. And during this time, with self-government at its birth hour, the Pilgrims from England after a twelve years' sojourn in Holland were making ready to establish in the new world a home of religious freedom. One year after the Virginians met, this Pilgrim band set sail for America, departing from Leyden, Holland, July 30, 1620. Furthermore let it not be forgotten that Nov. 11 is not only the anniversary day of signing of the Mayflower compact, second assumption by English colonies in America of the unalienable right of self-government, but it is also of the signing of the armistice closing the great war in which, as the above representative spokesmen point out, the descendants of the Pilgrims of New England and the cavaliers of Virginia and their kindred crossed the sea and won liberty together. A year with an imperative challenge to renew policies of Americanization and patriotic consecration is 1920, and no community should be without its religious and civic expression in acknowledgment of the past and in dedication to the future.

Landmark to Be Preserved.

The Mullan tree, landmark of the old Mullan trail, the first highway connecting Montana and Idaho with the coast, will be preserved to posterity through the creation of a national monument area by the president. On July 4, 1861, Captain John Mullan, leader of the party having in charge the survey and construction of the Mullan trail from Walla Walla, Wash., to Ft. Benton, Mont., closed his work at the connecting point of the roads from the east and west, at the head of the Fourth of July canyon, between Wallace, Idaho, and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. There he marked appropriately a huge white pine tree, which since that time has been known as the Mullan tree. Tourists seeking souvenirs of their jaunt along the Yellowstone trail have damaged the ancient tree so much that forest service officers have found it necessary to take steps to protect it, and to accomplish this have submitted a petition proposing that a national monument area be created, which has been approved.—Kansas City Journal.

Now, the other night the ten-year-old youngster was in the living room while the young man was calling. The caller, who was sitting close to the fireplace and stretching forth his

SEPTEMBER RAPE CROP SAVES TANKAGE COST

To Stop Coughing, Sneezing, Wheezing

Lexington, Ky.—With tankage being worth approximately $120 a ton it will be highly profitable for the farmer to sow in corn a crop of rape which can be hogged down in September and the cost of feeding tankage largely offset. From the middle to the last of July is the best time to sow rape to be hogged down in the fall.

Rape can be sown broadcast at the rate of eight pounds to the acre and covered with a small fourteen tooth cultivator. When hogs are turned in on green corn and rape the cost and use of tankage is reduced.

When the crop of rape is sown after the middle of July there is much less danger of the destruction by plant lice which so often injure early sown rape.

Unseasonable spring weather left a number of coughs and colds. Now comes the time of hay fever and asthma and more persons than ever will be coughing, sneezing and wheezing. No wonder there is a tremendous demand for Foley's Honey and Tar, that old reliable family remedy for coughs, colds, hay fever, asthma and croup. It heals and soothes that raw, rasping feeling in the throat, clears the passages and makes breathing easier.

BOYS

BOYS are well-known. You don't have to go to far lands or to the County Fair to look upon them. Everywhere, it is still the style to have Boys.

Perhaps you are trying to run one or more Boys right this minute. Then you will know that since the world began they were never so tremendously important as now. Your hopes and your aims center on them. You must deliver them out of Boyhood into successful Manhood.

Will your sons stay with the land, or will the will-o-the-wisp of the cities call them away? Armies of country Boys, who could be happiest and most successful on farms, respond to the artificial glamour of town life before they are old enough to know their own minds. They do not know that the rewards of country life—in money, health, and happiness—are far greater. Make them realize that! Guide the restless ambitions of your Boys and spare no pains!

Machines have been a powerful factor in stemming the flow to the cities. Machines banish drudgery and make labor interesting; machines foster the love of mechanics in the Boy; machines are builders of fortunes.

You now own many of the machines made by the International Harvester Company. We are headquarters for the International Full Line, including Titan tractors, International engines, and manure spreaders, Primrose cream separators, McCormick and Deering harvesting, haying, and corn machines, tillage tools, P&O plows, etc. Give the Boys every chance for liking farming and farm life. Perhaps more of these machines will help keep them contented.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For President JAMES M. COX
 For Vice President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
 For U. S. Senator J. C. W. BECKHAM
 For Congress BEN JOHNSON

Mr. Editor of the Hartford Republican, in replying to you, somewhat sarcastic editorial of last week, we would first ask you the following question: Are you one of those (from your editorial one would almost believe it) few narrow minded, selfish creatures who accept the protection of this great Republic and at the same time favor a cowardly course when our liberties are at stake? If we really could bring ourselves to the conclusion that you are sorry that the United States entered the war and so nobly aided in bringing it to the proper conclusion, we would not waste these few drops of ink in making an answer.

Having questioned some persons who were here while the U. S. was playing her part, we find that you were really patriotic, and therefore we reach the conclusion that when you so harshly criticize our great greef for getting us into the war, you greef for getting us into the war. You are merely doing it for political effect. We do not deny that "He Kept Us Out Of War" was a slogan in the election of four years ago. By his wonderful statesmanship, he was able for many months to prevent bloodshed and we honor him from the very depths of our heart for doing this, but when the unspeakable Hunns at last gave their notice that after a certain date there would be no mercy shown or restrictions made in their abominable submarine warfare, there was nothing left to do but fight and as the whole world knows today, we did fight most gloriously.

Now, Mr. Editor of the Hartford Republican, the brainiest men of all the leading nations of the world met and after months of deep consideration formed a plan to prevent all future wars. You ask us if we are in favor of asking American boys to shoulder the musket every time trouble arises anywhere in the world. No, emphatically. No, that is the very reason we are for the League of Nations. We are willing to risk the judgment of the world's greatest statesmen like Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd George, Georges Clemenceau, and Orlando in preference to petty politicians like, Senators Lodge, Johnson and Harding. You talk of a FEW hide bound partisans. If being in favor of the League of Nations is being hide bound and narrow minded, then there are millions of us in this old U. S. A. How can you talk about anyone being partisan when you offer adverse criticism to every sentence spoken or deed performed by Woodrow Wilson. You, like, Lodge and Company are down right jealous of the great accomplishments of the Democratic party under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, and are willing to sacrifice the peace of the entire world to see his efforts defeated. And yet there is no wonder, when we realize that in 6 years of Democratic rule more real accomplishments were recorded on the pages of our country's history than in 40 years of Republican rule.

We ask as we did last week, if the great spirit of unrest throughout the world is not due to partisan methods of the Republican leaders in Congress in blocking the League of Nations.

Senator Harding's speech makes it plain that he does not believe a president should preside. He thinks a President should love, honor and obey the party bosses.—Courier Journal.

Quite a bit of excitement was caused in the home of Mr. R. H. Gillespie, last Monday morning. The family arose early and built a booming fire in the coal range. While breakfast was cooking, one of the legs of the range gave way causing it to turn a summersault. By quick thinking and prompt action on the part of the members of the family the stove was soon righted and a disastrous fire averted.

MANY HAVE WRITTEN OF WAR

From Homer to the Present Day Correspondents Have Accompanied the Armies in the Field.

War correspondents, who have a distinguished place in the latest honor list, form an ancient tribe if we reckon Homer as one of them, remarks the Manchester Guardian. Sutherland Edwards maintained that the editor of a Greek paper entitled Chronos sent Homer out to Troy to describe "the incidents of the siege, which really lasted only about seven weeks. But when it was at an end the Greek chiefs had no desire whatever to go home; and as Homer (or "O'Maher"—to give his name in its original un-Hellenized form) was a very good fellow and drew a large salary with an abundant allowance for expenses, he readily accepted the idea proposed by the wise Ulysses—to keep the war going in the columns of his paper as long as he could manage to write about it. His correspondence was too good not to publish; and meantime the Greek chiefs went about amusing themselves.

There were no newspaper correspondents in the peninsular war, nor in the Waterloo campaign—though Rothschild, in 1815, had a correspondent of his own—who kept close to Wellington's army and supplied his employer with news of high financial value. After the peace of 1815 the first war of importance in Europe was the one between the Carlists and the Christinos in Spain, which, beginning in 1831, dragged on in desultory fashion until 1837, when a British legion having been formed to assist the Christinos, it attracted much attention in this country. British opinion was divided, Queen Christina finding support among the whigs, Don Carlos among the tories. Both armies were accused of committing atrocities, so the Times and the Morning Post sent correspondents to the Carlist camp with instructions to find out how the war was really being carried on. Capt. Henningsen, who represented the Times, was an admirable writer and a professional soldier, whereas Charles Gruneisen, who went on behalf of the Post, possessed no military experience. Still, he proved the more successful of the two, for Henningsen's letters never reached the Times. Gruneisen, on the other hand, appeared in the Morning Post, and on this rests the claim put forward, not by Gruneisen himself but by his friends, for classing him as the earliest of our war correspondents.

Put Your Surplus Straw Back On Your Land

The straw that you burn or use wastefully can be put back on your land with big profit. Properly spread, straw acts as a mulch on fall seeded crops. It prevents soil blowing, prevents winter killing, prevents winter frost from smothering plants—and when turned under it has almost as much fertilizing value as manure.

One man operates the John Deere either when spreading straw or manure. After the machine is loaded, get on the seat, put the machine in gear, start the team or tractor, set the machine for heavy or light spreading as conditions require—that's all.

To take off the Straw Spreading Attachment for manure spreading is only a 30-minute job for one man. The change is quickly and easily made.

Don't attempt to get along another year without this profitable equipment.

Come in and let us show you an outfit that will pay for itself in a short time.

AGRONOMY

Save seed wheat from the crop no matter if it is poor. The extra plump seed is no better than the lighter. The best way to procure the best seed wheat is to go over an acre and cut out all cheat, cockle and wild onion. Cut the area separately and thresh separately.

Do not use the first seed that comes through the separator as it will make it themselves. If it is found the seeds are not as labeled the vendor should be notified and an agreement reached or the seeds returned. If they contain large numbers of dock, dodder or cheat seeds or wild onion bulbs, they ought to be sown.

Home Economics

Since canned goods will sell at prohibitive prices next winter it behoves home demonstration agents to encourage the women and girls trash and put in safe place until to can as many fresh vegetables as possible this summer. Fruit with traces of stinking smut, the wheat be especially high and the canning should be given the formaldehyde of early cabbage and spinach together with the other vegetables regularly canned will insure a variety for the winter menu when even a poor crop that is likely to be better adapted, cleaner and more desirable in many ways than wheat that can be bought. It is on hand when wanted. The best varieties are grown in Kentucky. They have all been tried. There are none better.

By far the greatest cause of loss in soils is washing. The most practical and effective means of controlling erosion is to keep the ground occupied with growing crops. Every field now in a cultivated crop should have on it this winter a cover crop of some kind, wheat and rye being the most practical crops. A rye cover crop is worth more than it costs even if it should not be pastured in the spring. An attractive poster on this subject is being prepared. Write to Mr. Elliott how many you can use. Put on a "Stop Soil Washing" campaign.

A circular on crimson clover, prepared by E. J. Kinney, will be available for distribution about July 24 and can be obtained from N. R. Elliott.

Entomology

Farmers before sowing clover. Agricultural Engineering alfalfa, oats or other seeds should insist upon having a purity and farmers why a large amount of germination test from the dealer grain goes into the stack with the planted until the latter part of July. You can raise double the average yield per acre for Kentucky this fall.

First: Good soil well prepared.

Second: Good seed treated with corrosive sublimate for scab and rhizoctonia, diseases which are doing so much damage in Kentucky.

Third: Spraying as soon as the plants are fairly up with Bordeaux Mixture for blight. Three or four applications will control this disease which is also serious in the State. Arsenate of lead may be added to the Bordeaux Mixture for the potato beetles. Write for Extension Circular No. 76.

FERTILIZERS FOR WHEAT

Lexington, Ky.—With 16 per cent acid phosphate costing more than $30, it becomes a question in the minds of some farmers as to whether or not it will pay to use this high priced phosphate on wheat.

Prof. George Roberts, head of the Agronomy Department, of the College of Agriculture, gives the following results taken from the experimental fields. These records cover a period of from 4 to 6 years and were made on practically all types of soils outside of the Central Bluegrass.

On untreated land that produced 8 bushels of wheat per acre he found that when 200 pounds of 16 per cent acid phosphate was applied it gave an increase of 4½ bushels of wheat and where the ground was limed and fertilized with 200 pounds of 16 per cent acid phosphate gave an increase of 9 bushels. His experiments show that on unlimed soil raw ground rock phosphate has given as good or better results on the average than an equal investment in acid phosphate. This raw ground rock phosphate cannot be used in small quantities drilled at wheat sowing time; but it should be applied at the rate of 1000 to 2000 pounds broadcast and well mixed with the soil. When the price of acid phosphate becomes more than twice as much per ton as rock phosphate he believes the farmer may well consider the use of the latter, especially on unlimed soil.

His experiments show that in using acid phosphate, limestone increases its effectiveness and in most sections of the State other than in the Central Bluegrass region (the effect of lime on the clover follow-

AUTHORITY GIVES FACTS ON CARE OF JARS

Lexington, Ky.—Miss Mary Sweeney, of the Department of Home Economics, College of Agriculture, says that in canning, point to be remembered about jars are:

(1) the top must fit so tight that no air can enter; (2) wrapping jars in paper prevents fruit and vegetables from fading; (3) for home canning jars are economical and desirable; (4) select jars that seal perfectly and have wide mouth and protect food from touch; (5) use old jars but get them without leaks, breaks or corrosion.

BEAR HEAVY LOAD

Some of the Trials of Present Day Executives.

Man Who Complained That There Were No Efficient People in the World Had Some Excuse for His Bitterness—Trouble is Moral.

Several years ago, when I had just been promoted to my first real job, I called on a business friend of mine. He is a wise and experienced handier of men. I asked him what suggestions he could make about executive responsibility, writes Bruce Barton, in the Red Book.

"You are about to make a great discovery," he said. "Within a week or two you will know why it is that executives grow gray and die before their time. You will have learned the bitter truth that there are no efficient people in the world."

I am still very far from admitting that he was right, but I know well enough what he meant. Every man knows, who has ever been responsible for a piece of work or had to meet a pay roll.

Recently another friend of mine built a house. The money to build it represented a difficult period of saving on the part of himself and his wife; it meant overtime work and self-denial, and extra effort in behalf of a long-cherished dream.

One day when the work was well along he visited it, and saw a workman climbing a ladder to the roof with a little bunch of shingles in his hands.

"Look here," the foreman cried, "can't you carry a whole bundle of shingles?"

The workman regarded him sullenly.

"I suppose I could," he answered, "if I wanted to pull the job."

By "pull the job" he meant "do an honest day's work."

At 10 o'clock one morning I met still another man in his office in New York. He was munching a sandwich and gulping a cup of coffee which his secretary had brought in to him.

"I had to work late last night," he said, "and meet a very early appointment this morning. My wife asked our maid to have breakfast a half hour early so that I might have a bite and still be here in time."

"When I came down to breakfast the maid was still in bed."

She lives in his home and eats and is clothed by means of money which his brain provides; but she has no interest in his success, no care whatever except to do the minimum of work.

"The real trouble with the world today is a moral trouble," said a thoughtful man recently. "A large proportion of its people have lost all conception of what it means to render an adequate service in return for the wages they are paid."

He is a generous man. On almost any sort of question his sympathies are likely to be with labor, and so are mine. I am glad that men work shorter hours than they used to, and in certain instances I think the hours should be even shorter. I am glad they are paid higher wages, and hope they may earn still more.

But there are times when my sympathy goes out to those in whose behalf no voice is ever raised—to the executives of the world, whose hours are limited only by the limit of their physical and mental endurance; who carry not merely the load of their own work, but the heartbreaking load of carelessness and stolid indifference in so many of the folks whom they employ.

Perhaps the most successful executive in history was that centurion of the Bible.

"For I am a man of authority, having soldiers under me," he said. "And I say to this man go, and he goeth; and to another, come, and he cometh; and to my servant, do this, and he doeth it."

Marvelous man!

The modern executive also says, "Go," and too often the man who should have gone will appear a day or two later and explain, "I didn't understand what you meant." He says, "Come," and at the appointed time his telephone rings and a voice speaks, saying, "I overslept and will be there in about three-quarters of an hour."

Sugar Hog Punished.

A man who came out of the drizzling rain into a Cincinnati lunchroom late at night and ordered a cup of coffee and two rolls, complained when he got check for 14 cents, saying that the bill of fare said that coffee was 6 cents and rolls 4 cents. The proprietor explained that there was a charge of four cents, because the man, sweetening his coffee, was too free with the receptacle that discharged one spoonful of sugar when inverted. "I watched you," the proprietor said. "You dumped five spoonfuls of sugar in your coffee."

Planting Trees on Prairies.

In order to demonstrate to farmers on the plains the advisability and feasibility of planting trees on the prairies of the West, the Canadian Forestry association is sending a demonstration car on a tour of the three western provinces. A railway coach is being fitted up with a moving picture outfit, lecture hall, and a miniature nursery. The car will travel over the bulk of the western railway lines.

Czecho-Slovakia.

The new republic of Czecho-Slovakia has an area of between 50,000 and 60,000 square miles and a population of 12,000,000.

MARVELOUS IS HUMAN MIND

Five Hundred Million Brain Cells Responsive to the Call of Ruler of the Intellect.

On a rough estimate, the brain contains 500,000,000 cells, each having a consciousness of its own. Your self-consciousness, your personality, should be the master of all these willing slaves.

They are the genii of the mind, humbly waiting to do your bidding; guardians of the vast stores of ideas that you, more often than not without realizing it, have gathered along life's highway. Are you one of the reckless kind, who have "no idea," or are you in the ranks of the sensible, who summon the spirits of the intellect to their aid?

How is this done? Nothing more simple. Get the problem fairly and squarely into your head, and then forget it! The little genii of the brain refuse to be coerced; humor them, however, and there is no limit to what they can, and will, do for you. You have to make a decision. Turn the problem round and round in your head till you are giddy, you will get nearer to the solution. Put it away from you. Don't force your thoughts; leave them alone, and behold, suddenly, when you least expect it, the idea you have been searching for will jump into your mind, to be instantly recognized as the idea you wanted.

The magicians of the brain would appear to be more amenable to feminine than masculine rule, for the proverb of all nations agree that women's best ideas are her first ones, while man has to wait for second thought if he would act rightly.

Our search for ideas, too, must be systematic if we want to get hold of useful ones.

According to the Platonic philosophy, ideas are the universal types of which individual specimens are the more or less imperfect copies; so that we need not be downhearted if we cannot carry out our ideas in practice exactly as they occur to us in the mind.

Thought grows snowball fashion, and is the opposite to money.

The more we spend the more we have.—London Answers.

Good Causes and Poor Tunes.

Mr. Bernard Shaw, who has fallen foul of "The Red Flag," which he regards as an air that would ruin any movement, seems to forget that many a good cause has been supported by a poor tune. The Belgian national anthem is a remarkably inane melody but that did not impair the resistance of Liege. And neither the words nor music of "God Save the King," are particularly uplifting. The air of "Lillibullero," that is said to have whistled James II off the throne of England, cannot have been a very distinguished one, for nowadays no one seems to know what it was. On the other hand the Russian national anthem was easily one of the most stirring examples of its kind in Europe, but it did not save Russia from collapse. If the soviets have provided a substitute for it the result would probably please Mr. Shaw as little as "The Red Flag," which he considers should be rechristened "The Eternal March of a Fried Egg."—Manchester Guardian.

Thinks Earth Will Last Many Years.

In a recent lecture Sir Oliver Lodge, the eminent English scientist, announced that the earth would probably continue to exist for 20,000,000 years more. These are, of course, round numbers. Some scientists estimate that the earth will live for ten times this age. There have been animals of one kind and another on this planet for fully this length of time. The dinosaurs are believed to have lived through some such period. The age of man, which is probably only a few thousand years, seems the merest trifle by comparison. When we consider how man has developed during recorded history, which is less than ten thousand years, we may hope that he will evolve to an infinitely finer type in the future.—Boys' Life.

Carry Photo Messages in Eyes.

Spies, engaged in a life-and-death business, have devised extraordinarily ingenious methods of concealment since history began. No means could be more remarkable, however, than that used by the Russian Bolsheviks for getting messages through the enemy lines. The inside skin of an eggshell is pasted on glass, and reduced with a microtome knife to almost impalpable thinness. It is then sensitized, and a microscopic message photographed upon it. Removed from the glass, it is spread with a brush on the spy's eyeball, under the lid. It does not inconvenience the carrier, and being quite transparent it is practically invisible.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Film Quickly Developed.

Sixty rolls of photographic film handled in ten minutes' actual working time is the claim made for a system of glazed stoneware developing tanks now on the market, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. The tanks are sold in sets of three, one for developing, one for fixing and one for washing. Each has a concave bottom, terminating in a brass drain cock. The last, or washing, tank is fitted also with an overflow connection, to permit continuous water circulation from bottom to top.

a young man who practiced medicine in a rural district became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce who afterward moved to Buffalo, N.Y. He made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and he put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state in the Union.

For fifty years Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has sold more largely throughout the United States than any other medicine of like character.

It's the testimony of thousands of women that it has benefited or entirely eradicated such distressing ailments as women are prone to. It is now sold by druggists in tablet form as well as liquid.

GASOLINE TURNS THE EARTH

Motorboats Are Replacing Gondolas in Venice, and Even the Windmills in Holland Disappear.

Motorboats in Venice, replacing the gondolas are not the only mechanical profanation that is coming in to disappoint future American travelers in Europe. A letter from Amsterdam tells us that the Dutch windmills are being replaced by mills operated by steam and electric power. Every year some of the old windmills are burned, and they are not re-erected. Time may come when a few windmills will be treasured as relics in Holland; just as similar structures are still preserved on Aquidneck and Nantucket Islands for their curious interest, says the Boston Transcript. Already windmills of American construction, with steel fans arranged in wheels, instead of the picturesque old wooden arms, had begun to make their appearance, even in Holland. The metallic windmill with the revolving wheel, is more picturesque than the ordinary steam or water power mill, but it is not so picturesque as the old wooden affairs. On our western prairies and plains the tall windmills, with their big metal wheels spinning high in the air, are indeed a fine feature in the monotonous landscape, but even they are in danger of yielding to the process of pumping water by means of gasoline motors. The power of the wind, to be sure, costs nothing, while that of the gasoline motor may cost a good deal, but there are times when no wind blows, and the householder tires of waiting for it to rise. Less and less we are content to attend upon forces of nature. The beautiful sails are vanishing from the seas, to be replaced by belching smokestacks. On land windmills give place to structures operated by steam and electricity. The stalwart oxen are no longer seen at the farmer's plow; it is gasoline that turns the earth now. Homeward the unwary motor barks its way!

FAMOUS CHIMES RING AGAIN

Bells of St. Clements, in Old London, Appeal to Children, as in the Olden Days.

"Oranges and Lemons" rang out on the old bells of St. Clements on the last day of March on an evening as fine as any during the finest winter London has ever known. The bells rang, but few heard them, prevented by the roar of the Strand traffic. It was the first time the old nursery rhyme had been rung out from the steeple for a very long while. Some hundreds of school children who had been invited to attend the church, filed out at the close in small processions, plodded across the streams of traffic by the London policemen. Every child carried an orange or a lemon, a gift which made up to them for the faint tones in which the voices of the old bells reached their ears. Down the streets with the historic names running from the Strand to the Thames, St. Clements music was more audible, the sound carrying over the noise and roar, and into the offices where anybody, with a turn of mind for antiquity, has but to throw open his window to hear the sound of a bell cast in the year of the Spanish armada.

Unnecessary to Graft Skin.

When much skin is destroyed in burns, a common resort is skin graft, applied either in small isolated patches to grow gradually over the surface, or in pieces up to two or three inches square to cover a large portion or all of the wound. At a recent medical meeting, Dr. E. G. Beck of Chicago called attention to a process of culture by which skin may be made to grow without grafting, even over large surfaces. As the wound heals the granulations at the edge of the spreading fresh skin place an elevated barrier in its way and if these granulations are removed as often as every 24 hours the patient's own skin is given a chance and may be watched spreading over the entire surface. A protective covering of paraffin often promotes the replacement of skin without grafting.

Iron Germs.

In the same manner that coral is derived from certain minute sea-insects who flourish in the South Pacific, so certain iron ores are obtained from particular microscopic organisms.

That is the latest scientific discovery, which promises interesting developments.

It has been proved that these germs not only aid in the decomposition of rocks and in the formation of chalk and limestone, but play an active part in the forming of iron-ore deposits.

Laboratory cultures have been made of bacteria which deposit iron compounds both in surface waters and in mine water hundreds of feet underground, and the hard crusts and slimy masses that choke up water-supply pipes have been found to be composed of millions of these "iron bacteria."

Nothing Green in Death Valley.

The natural vegetation of Death Valley is scant and stunted. There is not a green thing that grows there naturally. The thorny mesquit trees are of a yellowish-green tinge; so, too, are the grease bushes, while the sagebrush is either a yellowish gray or the color of ashes. A little round gourd called the desert apple grows in some of the canyons. It turns yellow when ripe and has a thin meat within that is exceedingly bitter. The cactus that grows beyond the valley in abundance is rare here. In short, the vegetation of Death Valley is terribly scant, even in comparison with the Mojave desert.

Scientific Triumph.

Students of the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh placed a radio transmitter in Central hall to send out the music of an orchestra playing in the hall to scores of radio students in the district listening in. Professor Rath, hearing the music in the experiment station of the university, half a mile away, succeeded by the use of a magnavox—an instrument to increase the sound from a radio receiver—and two strings of electric wires, in passing it on a half-mile to the Helm house, where students danced to it.

The Press Agent's Work.

The old-time press agent is now known as a "publicity expert" and his business has greatly developed in recent years. Outside of the regular theatrical press agents, every American city has a small army of men who find lucrative employment in giving publicity to financial and industrial enterprises, philanthropic and educational institutions, hotels and restaurants, and a wide variety of other things that depend for their success upon the patronage of the public.

Little Misses Thelma and Leona Bennett, of Shinkle Chapel, are spending the week with relatives in this city.

Keep Up To The Mark

Good health, is impossible when the kidneys are weak, overworked or diseased. When thy fail to filter out of the blood the poisons and impurities that cause sore, swollen muscles and joints, backache or rheumatic pains, prompt steps should be taken to give the kidneys and bladder the help these symptoms indicate they need. James Carmen, Mayfield, Ky., writes: "I am in good shape and can say I found Foley Kidney Pills certainly fine. I can't say enough for them." (Advertisement).

TO ADD MORE DOLLARS TO YOUR INCOME

Simply Make Your Income Buy More Dollars' Worth

After all, it is not dollars that anybody works for. It is for the things that dollars will buy.

If one man earns fifty dollars and gets fifty dollars' worth of goods with the money, does he really make any more money than the man who earns thirty-five dollars and gets fifty dollars' worth of goods for it?

Not a bit—except a matter of vanity, perhaps.

The $35 man earns the other fifteen dollars WHEN HE SPENDS IT!

Or—more likely—HIS WIFE EARNS IT, when she carefully and shrewdly spends the money that her husband earns.

Now is the time to MAKE YOUR INCOME BIGGER, because dollars will buy so much more in this store.
